NIKI ULYANOV

Country: China
School: GW SB
Level: Graduate Student

Bodybuilding competitor, Fortune 500 company supervisor, multi-language user.....It is very hard to define Niki, who is from China and trying to further his master's degree in Sport Management at the GW School of Business. He grew up in a bilingual and multicultural environment so he knows how to get along well with people from all over the world!

Niki has a deeper understanding of how non-native speakers are challenged when they are trying to live in a new country, he wants to use his own experience to help international students achieve their life, academic, and professional goals at GW.

For Niki’s daily life, he is a loyal sports fan of the NBA and could play different types of sports activities: basketball, badminton, tennis, table tennis, bodybuilding, swimming, and motorcycle racing. Last but not least, he can speak Chinese, English, and Russian!
